CAUSE

On August 17, 2005, the Court modified the conditions of supervised release to include restitution payments in the amount of $60 per month. Wheeler made a payment of $60 on July 18, 2005, and failed to make any additional payments through January 2006. He was verbally reprimanded for his failure to pay. The offender did submit a receipt reflecting a payment of $420 on January 31, 2006, bringing him current. A financial investigation conducted on March 13, 2006, revealed Wheeler has a positive net monthly cash flow of $200 after expenses and a ten percent savings allowance.

Modification of Supervised Release

On March 22, 2006, our office received written correspondence from Yamilee Sanchez, United States Probation Officer, Southern District of Florida, on the above captioned offender. USPO Sanchez reported she recently conducted a financial investigation and determined Wheeler could pay $200.00 per month toward his restitution obligation. The offender signed a Waiver of Hearing to Modify Conditions and a Financial Obligation agreement establishing the fine payment at $200 per month commencing April 1, 2006, and every month thereafter. The waiver also includes fifty hours of community service due to five months of non-payment of his financial obligation.

Attached to the memorandum is Probation Form 12B, Probation Form 49, and the original correspondence from USPO Sanchez.

If the Court has any questions or needs additional information, a response will be provided immediately.
